YOUR DONATIONS AT WORK

When a patient can't breathe on their own, ventilation is required to keep vital organs functioning. Recently Foundation funding was used to purchase a Portable Ventilator.

Prior to having a portable ventilator, our medical staff would support their patients with manual ventilation through an endotracheal tube. This process requires medical staff to be in very close contact with a patient.

The new ventilator is programmed to meet the specific needs of each patient, which is better for patient care.

Our staff and donors are important to us, and we want to share how grateful we are to be surrounded by such dedicated people. We couldn't do this without all of the support from your donations. THANK YOU!

"When a patient is manually ventilated, a physician or nurse must squeeze the (ventilation) bag. This process could take hours, depending on medical transfer and intensive care availability."

"The care provided to my mother was exceptional. Everyone from the nurses, to the kitchen staff, the cleaners and maintenance had smiles on their faces and a willingness to help. You made a stressful time so much easier for my mom and our family. Thank you."
